

ARTILLERY QUOTES: (thanks John Redman)

Artillery adds dignity to what would otherwise be a vulgar brawl.... Frederick the Great

Gunner time is always right; it might not be correct, but it's always right.... Gunner saying

The guns, thank God, the guns*Rudyard Kipling* God fights on the side with the best artillery....Napoleon

The gun is the rallying point of the detachment; its flag, its banner. It is that to which the men look, by which they stand, with which they fall. As long as the gun is theirs they are unconquered, victorious; when the gun is lost, all is lost. It is their religion to fight until the enemy is out of range or until the gun itself is withdrawn, or until both it and the detachment are in the hands of the foe...Unknown There is no job in the field artillery for the weak, the timid or the indecisive....Unknown

The first shot is for the Devil, the second for God, and only the third is for the King....Napoleon

Cannon to the right of them, cannon to the left of them, cannon in front of them; Volley'ed and thundered....Lord Tennyson

If you don't have enough artillery, quit....General Richard Cavasos With artillery, war is made....Napoleon

The single factor that had the greatest effect on the outcome of the Battle was the artillery...Major Harry Smith

Gunners believe the world consists of two types of people; other gunners and targets....Unknown

Leave the artillerymen alone, they are an obstinate lot....Napoleon

Nothing is more destructive than the charge of artillery into a crowd....Napoleon

Ultima ratio regum (The final argument of kings)....The inscription on French cannons

Where a goat can go, a man can go; where a man can go, he can drag a gun....Colonel William Phillips

Gunners will always fight together, drink together, laugh together and mourn together....Unknown

One thing that allowed 1st Field Regiment to adapt so quickly and so well to the conditions in Vietnam was the high level of training which had been achieved in Australia. They practiced and practiced until the drills became second nature. ..Lex McAulay

The Great War demonstrated the importance of field artillery; the majority of casualties were inflicted by the Arm....General John Pershing The better the infantry, the more one must husband and support it with good batteries. ..Napoleon

Calling for artillery fire to cover their withdrawal and getting it quickly, won the day....Brigadier Julian Thompson

Renown awaits the commander who first restores artillery to its prime importance on the battlefield....Winston Churchill

No one accuses the gunner of maudlin affection for anything except his beasts and his weapons. He serves as least three jealous gods – his horse and all its saddlery and harness; his gun, whose least detail of efficiency is more important than men's lives; and, when these have been attended to, the never-ending mystery of his art commands him....Rudyard Kipling

The war also vindicates the establishment of specialist corps of highly trained and prepared units ready for instant deployment. The Royal Artillery provided superb support for the infantry – indeed, the gunners' contribution to most of the battles of the war was decisive. ...Max Hasting The best generals are those who have served in the artillery....Napoleon

You may hide in the caves, they'll be only your graves, but you can't get away from the guns....Rudyard Kipling
